Professor Morse, of telegraphic celebrity, writing from on board the steamship Niagara, with reference to the failure of the Atlantic telegraph cable,

Our accident will delay the enterprise, but will not defeat it; I consider it a settled fact, from all I not defeat it; I consider it a settled fact, from all I have seen, that it is perfectly practicable; it will rely be accomplished. There is no insurmountable faculty that has for a moment appeared, none that has shaken my faith in it in the slightest degree. By report to the Cempany as co-electrician shows everything right in that department; we got an electric current through till the moment of parting, so that electric connection was perfect; and yet the further we paid out the feebler were the currents, indicating a difficulty, which, however. I do not consider serious, while it is of a nature to require attentive investigation.

This seems to us rather indefinite, and we cannot help thinking it calculated to throw some doubt upon the success of the great enterprise. Professor Morse says, that, the further the submariue cable was paid out, the feebler the electric currents became, "indicating a difficulty," which, though he does not think it "serious," he regards as "of a nature to require attentive Investigation."

The Professor does not say whether the diminution of the strength of the currents was in such a ratio that they would be likely to cease altogether when or before the cable should be extended from continent to continent, but we fear this is what he The electric currents, before the commencement of the laying down of the cable, were repeatedly sent throughout its entire length of two thousand miles, and we have been under the impression that the fact was at that time established, or supposed to be established by actual experiment, that they could be transmitted under water even better than above; but we presume, that, if Mr. Morse did not think, from his observations during the paying out etween three and four hundred miles of the cable, that the strength of the currents diminished more rapidly under water than above, and diminished so rapidly that there was danger of their not passing at all through a submarine extent of two thousand miles, he would not say that he considered the diminution a difficulty "of a nature to require attentive investigation."

If the electricity will not pass under water through two thousand miles of such cable as the Company recently commenced laying down, we cannot escape the apprehension that the difficulty is without reme dy. Indeed, we cannot conceive a remedy. The insulation of the broken wire was undoubtedly as perfect as human art can make it, and, if the trouble of the weakening of the electrical currents could be overcome by batteries of increased power, Mr. Morse would scarcely be justified in saying that the trouble is "of a nature to require attentive investi-

Capt. Howard, of Milwaukie, has contracted with Messrs. J. R. & A. Steers, of New York, for the construction of two steamers to run between Milwaukie and Grand Haven. They are to be about 2,000 tons each, with cylinders ninety-nine inches in diameter. These poats will form a ferry between the above named ports for the purpose of connecting the lines of railroad terminating there. The saving of time, distance, and expense by this line in passing between the East and Northwest will be in consequence of the change. so great as to make it the grand through route for

THE HOG CHOLERA .- Mr. Gibson Mallory, who lives about five miles from the city on the Westport Plankroad, informs us that he has lost by this disease one hundred out of one hundred and seventy and that he expects to lose nearly or quite all rest. Mr. Sam. Steele, of the same neighborhood, has lost all he had, about eighty. Mr. Charles Bar rickman has lost nearly all his, about seventy Scarcely a drove of hogs between here and Saltill is exempt from the malady. A DELIGHTFUL OPENING .- This poetical advertisement for "a friend" comes from as fair and lovely a young creature as every haunted a Motlem's dreams. And now all the tall, handsome, virtuous gentlemen, with curling bair, white teeth, brilliant eyes, shining boots, nice shirt-bosoms, Raglan coats. and tight pants, who may aspire to the situation of Blanche Ivon's friend, will please present themselves to us, and, when we shall have made the selection, we will give the chosen youth a note to her. If we have any difficulty in deciding upon the comparative claims of applicants, we shall eall in the aid of Miss Ivon herself. As Miss I. is very young, it is desirable that the aspirants should not e more than about our age:

[For the Louisville Bulletin.] I AM EIGHTEEN YEARS OLD. Dear Mr. Editor, will you please send To me a very ulce gentleman friend; I want one right badly, so do not delay, For without one I hardly can live one more day; He must be quite handsome, and he should be tall, But, if that's impossible, I'd take iilm small; His hair must be curling, his teeth must be white. His coat must be "Raglan," his pants must be tight; His eyes must be brilliant, he must have uo vice, His boots must be shining, his shirt-bosom nice; He must love me, oh dearly, but just as a "friend," And when I act wrongly, my faults he must meud; In return I will give him a heart that is warm With friendship, not love, for that would be harm. It's a friend that I wish, rot a lover just now, So please make the difference, as you know how

TO MISS —, ON SEEING HER SAD.
BY HENRY D. TUCK.
I've seen the bright brow of Aurora o'ereast With mists shaken down from the dark wing of night, And I've seen the gay lark hush its sweet matin-hymu, And in sadness fold up its young wing of delight; But, never have felt on my heart, until now, A sadness so like to the shade on thy brow.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 15th, 1857.

I've seen the sweet rose with its petals half folded, Whilst in its soft bosom the bright dew-drop lay -How sweetly it slept in the sunlight of morning! When some rude wind swept the fair vision away; I have often seen these—but the rose and the light Faded not from my heart till I saw thee to-night.

I've seen the bright clouds, with their gold-tinted wings. At the calm even-tide, floating out on the West, And they seemed to my heart the fair banners of 1lope, Waving o'er a lost world from the land of the blest; But the dark storm-cloud rises—the visions depart— And a night settles down like the night on my heart.

Oh! let not Aphelia's dark piuion becloud Still longer the glory asleep in thy heart-Unfurl the bright rainbow of Promise and Peace. And bid the dark cohorts of serrow depart; Unfurl il, fair one, o'er the tempest to shine, With "one wing" on thy heart and one upon minc. MEMPHIS, Sept. 10, 1857.

THE BANQUET .- One of the most pleasing features of the exhibition of the Kentucky Mechanics' Institute was the elegant bauquet at the close on Tnesday night.

President Ainslie presided with his usual grace, assisted by Mr. C. L. Stancliff, an ex-president, and Mr. George Brobston, an ex-vice president of the Institute. The secretary, Mr. J. B. Davis, made himself agreeable at the other end of the festive

After the substautial meals and delieate viands had been disposed of, the president proposed the health of the "orator of the evening," the response to which was transferred (by request of Mr. Kirk) to Mr. Geo. W. Morris, who delivered the eloquent address at the opening of the present, year's exhibi-

In the toast in honor of the "home press," Col. L. A. Whitely was called out, and responded in the most graceful, eloquent, and humorous manner, elosing with a brilliant song.

Prof. R. J. Breckinridge answered to the sentiment in honor of himself and his illustrious name, in a brief, pertinent, and well-received address.

Mr. Lucas of the Louisville Democrat, entering the banquet-room at a late hour, was saluted with a discharge of champagne corks, while the company "tipped the rosy" to that classie sentiment: "Lucus a non lucendo.

To a suggestion in reference to the firemen, Col. J Henry Thomas responded eloquently, with great force and entire truth. His remarks were enthusiastically received.

"Our artists" were well represented by Mr. Chas Wolford, who, having made a capital speech and sang an excellent song, gave the following senti-

"The fair sex of Louisville-piously inclined, they ever as they have done to-night, manifest their devotion to the Kirk!"

The festivities were protracted to a late hour, and the company separated with a rendition of "Anld Lang Syne" by more than a score of voices-

The correspondent of the New York Herald, at Cnracao, gives some important news with reference to the revolution in San Domingo, and the progress of the strife now going on between the partizans of ex-President Santana and the government of President Baez. The recall of Santana, who is in exile at St. Thomas, and his return to power, are demanded by his friends. The Baez party, being hard pressed, had formed an alliance with the Haytien Emperor, Soulouque, who had dispatched assistance to his ally. The war raged with much fury and bloodshed. Planters were sustaining heavy losses by a wholesale ruuning off of slaves, who escaped the vigilance of the fort sentinels by swimming along a line, under water, to a boat, to which the end of it was fastened. News of the approaching abolition of slavery by the Dutch government had been received, but it was thought that no great shock would be suffered by the trading community

EXPRESS ROBBERY AT MADISON.—The office of the American Express Company at Madison, Wisconsion, was robbed of $15,000 in gold and silver a few nights ago, and the theif or thieves escaped. It was boldly and adroitly done. The keys of the safe were stolen from the pocket of the agent, Mr. Douglas, while he was asleep at his house, the money se cured, the safe relocked, and the keys thrown away Considerable of the money was gold, sent to Madion by one of the Milwaukee Banks.

SAD AFFLICTION .- Thomas Ballow, of Watertown, N. Y., lost in the space of eighteen days, five bright, stout, and healthy children by scarlet fever. RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

There were only 3 feet 4 inches water in the canal last evening. The last boat up is the l'esolute. She reports having passed the Chancellor aground at Blue River Island. Seven or eight boats were aground on Flint Island and Scuffletown bars. The large number of small boats in port keep prices of freight down.

The steamer Dove left for Frankfort last evening. She will be laid up there until a rise shall take place in the Kentucky river.

The old steamer Venture, a Portsmouth and Pomerov packet, sunk a few days ago above Greensburg. She was valued at $3,000.

The Florilda.-This elegant new steamer, Capt. Baldwin, Mr. Johnson, elerk, will leave for St. Louis from Portland to-day. She was built here, and this is her first trip. Travelers will have a good time on her.

There are several boats for Cairo, as will be seen by reference to the advertising column.

The fine packet, Wm. Dickson, in command of Capt. Duncan, takes the place of the W. A. Eaves o-day in the Henderson trade. The good steamer Statesman will leave for Owensporo this evening. The Superior is the mailboat for Cincinuati to-

The Emma Dean arrived at au early hour last evening, and we thank her clerk for a copy of the manifest. She will leave punctually at 1 o'clock to-day. The Fanny Bullitt was due at Cairo last night and the Woodford will arrive there to-day. These boats will not come up further, but return from that point to New Orleans.

rall our daily rambles through the city seeking news, incidents, &c., with which to ansuse and interest our readers, and "eatching the manners living as they rise," we discovered a specimen of eelebrated chewing tobacco in the show window of Messrs. Read, Anderson, & Co. Our mouth watered for a bite at it, and we stepped in to inquire if it was for sale, but we found it was only a specimen of the famous chewing tobacco from Smith, Guthrie, & Co., which took the premium at the late fair. One of the polite gentlemen of the lirm of Read, Anderson, & Co. showed us samples of their elegant premium hats and caps, which made us forget the tobacco for a time in our admiration of the splendid stock of this extensive house. No one who goes through their establishment can say with truth 'there is nothing to wear."

The largest and finest colored photographs ever executed in Kentucky are to be seen at Harris's Gallery. They are the life size, taken by Elrod, of Lexington, and were awarded the first premium at the Mechanics' Fair.

Persons desiring such pictures would do well to all soon, examine them, and leave their orders; the creat beauty of the picture is the accuracy of feaure, being as perfect as the daguerreotype, while it possesses the beauty of oil colors, in tone and finish. Mr. N. Hall, formerly associated with Mr. Elrod, sas these pictures in charge and is now prepared to fill orders in the same style of art.

SUDDEN DEATH .- Mr. Alfred S. Savage, of Louisiana, died yesterday afternoon at the Louisville Hotel very suddenly. He had only been in the city a few days. Such was the suddenness of his illnose and decease, that it was not until after death that his name could be ascertained. Messrs, Cal. Rawlings and Richard Longest were attentive to the deceased in his last hours.

Dr. Alex. Forsyth, with characteristic professional skill and goodness of heart, attended Mr. Savage in the very articulo mortis.

The New York public were recently amazed by the annunciation of the fact, brought to light in eity court, that the famous Corouer Connery wa not the author of his own famous charge to the grand jury in the Mrs. Cunningham case-a charge that made almost as much noise in the world as the charge of the six hundred at Balaklava.

The alarm of fire last night between 12 and 1 o'clock originated in Thornton & Hawkins's mustard manufactory, on Bullitt street. The fire was extinguished without the aid of the engines.

We call attention to the first of a series of ex cellent communications upon the Industrial School

KANSAS CITY. - This city, situated not in Kausas Territory, but upon the Missouri river in Jackson county, Mo., appears to be attracting a great deal of attention and to be growing with exceeding rapidity. We see, from the newspaper published there, that the number of buildings erected between the first of May last and the 22nd of August, only about three months and a half, was five hundred and twenty-seven, at a cost of about a million of dollars; and, within the same period, the value of real estate was fully doubled. The number of wagons loaded for the Plains, Kansas Territory, New Mexico, &c., within that time, was 13,440, the number of men employed on the wagons 20,160, the number of mules and oxen thus employed 36,960, the amount of shipments for various points 40,976,000 lbs, and the value of imports nearly two millions of dollars.

Kansas City eonsists of two parts, the city proper and McGee's addition, the latter being much the best portion for residences, and affording fine sites for business. The Kansas City Enterprise of the 22nd ult., from which we have taken these facts.

Building in the Addition is now assuming a busin ermanent character. Blocks of business houses a permanent character. Blocks of business houses and elegant residences are taking the place of other structures. The proprietor himself, Mr. E. M. McGee, is now engaged in building his own residence at a cost of $15,000. The Interest on his back payments already amount to $50,000 annually. Such is the great Weslern metrapolls—everything moving, money fermenting, and streets, lots, alleys, and levees covered all over with bricks, mortar, lumber, and a constant caravan of trains and teams loaded with the commercial supplies of this great "inland entrepot" of the prairie and the mountains. With a population something less than 5,000, we ask any With a population something less than 5,000, we ask any Even now, without our railroads, the business of this city far surpasses many a more populous city in the older and Western States, that have railroad connections and communications with every mile of country from which such cities derive their support. But our railroads, though not completed, are building as fast as money can accomplish anything, and not till our great undereloped domain that supports us now feels the pulsation of the heart of steam shall we begin to grow into those great proportions that await us.

STILL ANOTHER ADDITION TO THE FINE STOCK OF JEFFERSON COUNTY .- We learn that the elegant four year old filly brought from New York by Mr. Davis was bought by our enterprising fellow-citizen, Hamilton Ormsby, Esq.

She is full sister to Highland Messenger, owned by S. R. Womack & Co., and is closely related to Flora Temple, Tib Hinman, and many other celebrated trotters of that particular stock. Highland Mary is an animal of great promise, and the admirers of Messeager stock may well regard her as an acquisition to this county.

Hogs.—There are buyers for hogs for early November delivery at $6 50, and for December at $6 25. The Cincinnati Price-Current enters into a lengthy argument on the yield of the coming crop, and from all the evidences before it comes to the eonelusion that it will be "a very long erop."

Dates from Rio Janeiro to the 9th report coffee searce and quote it at 131/4 cents per pound.

THE FINANCIAL PANIC .- Under this heading the New York Times, of Monday, gives in its editorial columns the following brief review of the change in the finances since the present panic commenced, and closes with some advice to the banking institutions:

The condition of money affairs, at the close of the third week of the existing pressure, is not, in all resects, a satisfactory one, and yet, in the substantial evidences of increasing strength to the market, there is much to encourage the belief that the embarrassment must, or ought soon, to pass away. Our own money reporter, in connection with a neighboring journal, took account of the stock of specie is bank on Saturday last, by calling upon each bank personally, and found, in the aggregate, thirteen millions of ollurs, as against after millions the week the Obio Trust railed, and put all Wall street into commotion. This recovery of four millions dollars in a single fortnight ought surely to stay the disastrons course of curtailment which has been going on in the line of bank discounts. At all levents, the fact that four millions of oldars in hard easil lave been drawn from the country to the city—two millions of the trough the sub-treasury, for work and labor done for the Government—in so brief a time, and on an emergency of such sudden and wholly unexpected occurrence, speaks volumes for the financial strength of our bappy and prosperous (in spite of this temporary panic) land. The movement has been accomplished without producing serious embarrassment in other quarters. The clies of Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and New Orieans have all promptly and largely remitted, and they have had no bank suspensions or failures. It is believed that specie will continue to flow to this city, as well from the interior as from California. At the same time the export demand less only been checked, but we are fast approaching the season of the vear when our great agricultural products will render such and it, but our main arrors taple, cotton, promises to bear the lighest average price, durough the rardy part of the shipping season, at all orents, known for very many years less it. It is not a support to the product the finances since the present panic commenced, and closes with some advice to the banking institutions:

and a foir name at bank to carry them through their fall payments?

We loose, In a few days at most, to record a change which shall answer these inquiries satisfactority. We are told that on Saturday, outsile of bank, there was an unaccountable feeding of discouragement pervading the business circles, while the bank vanits are being rapidly are all that can be reasonably asked. This sort of gloom must soon be dispelled, and we are quite sure that the money-leaders have now the ability, through a rational concert of action and a determination among themselvesto think better of mercantile credit, railway credit, and money values of every commendable class, to lend liberally, where lending will bring relief. It is not the particular province of the press to advise these gentlemen how they are to manage their own affairs; but the liberty of saggesting achere they can be of service—and aby, with all the material prosperity that surrounds and pervades the business of the country, they should be liberal, and, above all, trustful—nust be pardoned in the existing state of untoward (and in good part uncalled tor) embarrassment.

Cur readers have not forgotten the excitement produced at Memphis a few weeks ago by an attempt to remove a man named Isaac Bolton, who is confined in jail there on a charge of murder. The order for his removal came from a circuit judge in another county, by a writ of habeas corpus, to determine whether Bolton's case was a bailable one. The carrying out of this order by the sheriff was openly resisted by many of the citizens of Memphis, and for the safety of the life of the prisouer it was aban doned. We connot approve of the course of the citizens who arrayed themselves against the law, no matter whether it was right or wrong. The followng developments would indicate, however, that the apprehensions entertained by those who opposed Bolton's removal were not altogether unfounded:

ASTOUNDING DEVELOPMENTS.

To the Editors of the Memphis Eagle and Enquirer. GENTLEMEN: The following is a copy of a letter received is day from some of the most propriet GENTLEMEN: The following is a copy of a letter received this day from some of the most prominent citizens of Maysville, Kentucky, which you will please publish in your paper. As to the standing of the parties whose names are attached to this letter, I would say, from my own knowledge, it is as good as any in the United States, nearly all of them are the principal merchants and business men of that city, and known to many of the merchants of Memphis.

Respectfully, II. E. MILTON. Chairman of Committee of Twenty-Five.

MAYSVILLE, KY., Sept. 4th, 1857. DEAR SIZ: The peculiar circumstances which belong to the case of the "State of Tennessee vs. Isaac Bolton," for the apology we offer you for addressing you upon the sub the case of the "State of Tennessee vs. Isaac Bolton," form the apology we offer you for addressing you upon the subject.

The poor man who was so suddenly cut off hy Bolton was our neighbor and townsman, and, so far as we had ever known or heard, quiet, forbearing, peaceable, and inoffensive! The batch of witnesses so noislessly hunted up and transchipped from here, were also our fellow-citizens or fellow-countrymen, unfortunately, and thus our town and we, in some sense, are personally interested in the trial. We, however, will not interfere further than is necessary to do justice to ourselves and discharge a duty we owe to our fellow-citizens of Memphis. We write to you to bear our testimony against the witnesses iately hired here by the agent of the prisoner to visit your city and swear in your courts. The majority of them are vagabonds of well established bad characters, whom no judge or jury here would know anything about the case, the secrecy with which they left here, and their own abominable characters, have Inspired our whole community with the belief that they should know anything about the case, the secrecy with which they have made this foray upon your city for some dishonest purpose. For a day or two past, "Bolton's vitnesses" have been the laughter of the whole town—everybody concurring that "Thompson," the agent who had "procured" them, have for the majority of his day and away with them himself. We regard it as a singular occurrence that nobody here should be in possession of any facts tending to the detriment of the unfortunate deceased, or the advantage of his slayer, but a rabbie of witnesses that would have diagraced Fallstaff's company. We believe this singularity was not accidental, but resulted from the congenial taste of the procurrer and the necessities of the defense. We have felt it our duty to apprise you of the standing of this formidable corps-whose names are already in your possession.

We do not desire that any injustice shall be done the manisayer—we hope his cause will be pati

THE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL ENTERPRISE. The INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL ENTERPRISE.

The charter under which the Monadelphian Society is endeavoring to provide for the moral, intellectual, and unprovided for children of our city and State through the instrumentality of the home, the school, and the workshop, embraces three distinctive objects for the accomplishment of the undertaking which accomplishment of the undertaking which accomplishment of the scients.

tive objects for the accomplishment of the undertaking, which successfully attained resolves the sceiety into a self-sustaining educational charity.

The object first presented in the act of incorporation by the powers conferred of owning and selling property, real, personal, and mixed, perpetually to an unlimited amount, to create a capital stock in shares of one dollar without limit, and employ the same, with exemption from taxatiom, so as to make it productive of profit, is to establish a system of industrial operations in such business pursuits as are it productive of profit, is to establish a system of industrial operations in such business pursuits as are known to be renunerative, for the purpose of producing an amount of capital sufficient to sustain and support the other two objects.

The tirst object, then, contemplated in the charter, which underlies and gives certainty and stability to the other two, is to make money in amount equal to the demands of the enterprise. And, assuredly, the powers bestowed for accomplishing it are more extended and liberal than have been or perhaps ever will be granted to any other corporate body, and could not have been obtained for purposes of individual gain. The Legislature considered the moral, intellectual, and industrial education of the people the highest and noblest aim of all human enterprise, the highest and noblest aim of all human enterprise, and worthy of the largest grant of power. And what scheme of benevolence, what stretch of enter-what scheme of benevolence, what stretch of enterprise or associated effort with whatever combination or aims, could so amply and happily compensate the State for the grants? For in the morality, intelligence, and industrial capability of the people are to be found the only reliable elements of individual and nation a prosperity, happiness, and renown.

The second object contemplated in the charter is the providing an asylum home for neglected and unprovided for children, which will supply to them the benefits of parents! care. To have bestowed such powers to supply the wants of children not neglected, or that were provided for, would have been a work of supereregation, and therefore useless. But when we remember that there are over 30,000 children in the State whose parents pay no tax, we can a work of supercregation, and therefore neeless. But when we remember that there are over 30,000 children in the State whose parents pay no tax, we can well conceive the wise policy and benevolent design of the Legislature in committing to associated individual enterprise the noble work of rescuing these "moral orphans" from the ruin to which so many are hastening, and to which the circumstances which surround them must inevetably precipitate many, if not most of them.

Surely there is not a more humane work than taking these children from the degraded condition in which poverty and iznorance place them and rearing them up to usefulness and respectability, that they may become a blessing to society and worthy citizens of the Commonwealth. To lift the poor from their poverty to the full enjoyment of social and religious privileges is the charity tanght by Him who claimed the preaching of the gaspel to the poor as a proof of his Messinhship, and which, if more practiced in our midst, instead of latering to build up aristocratic literary institutions elsewhere, would give more vitality to Christianity and a work more in harmony with its spirit for the ministry.

The third object included in the powers of the Christianity and a work more in narmony with its spirit for the ministry.

The third object included in the powers of the charter is education in literature, science, and the arts, combined with labor and the relief of human suffering—to teach the head, the heart, and the hands what to know, what to do, and how to do it—to take neglected and unprovided-for girls and loves and peaks them, intelligent virtuous working. boys and make them intelligent, virtuous working men and women, instead of finished gentlemen and ladies, in the common acceptation of those

To give employment to the needy and unemployed laborer, and, though he be stricken with years, to teach him lessons of wisdom, and open to him the treasnres of knowledgle; to lift him from the dust, around him the mautle of fraternity, and fo Christ's sake, bid him welcome, and in the spirit of Him who despised not the poor, but taught them and took them into companionship; hold him up in his feebleness, help him in his weakness, encourage him in his despondency, and succor him in his desti-tution, and enable him to build up his self-respect and acquire the means of subsistence while he is crowing better and wiser. The details for the accomplishment of these objects hereafter.

More Vigilance Committees in Virginia. The Winchester Virginian notices the arrest of a man in Frederick county for barn burning, and says that a Vigilance Committee has been formed who will determine what shall be done with him. The fate of Jeff Randall, in Rockingham county, does not seem to have had the desired effect, as the Staunton Spectator says that a brother of the deceased has been threatening the individuals engaged in the hanging of that notorious individual, and has written various letters in which his purposes of vengeance were indicated. Iu consequence of these threats, the Vigilance Committee have held several meetings with closed doors, to consult and determine their action in the premises.

AN IMPORTANT OPINION .- The question having been referred to him, the Attorney-General of Indiana, Hon. J. E. McDonald, has decided that no vacancy has occurred upon the Supreme Bench by the resignations of Judge Stewart and Judge Gookins, to take effect hereafter, which will require an election of successors to those gentlemen at the October election ensuing. The vacancy does not occur until the resignation takes effect, consequently there is no vacancy to fill until that period. So it will be the duty of the Governor to fill the vacaucies on the bench, for the period that shall occur from the date when the resignations take effect till the next gen-

BOURDON FAIR .- The twenty-first annual Bourbon fair will commence on Tuesday next at Paris, Ky., and continue four days. This is the oldest agricultural fair west of the Alleghenies. It has now been in existence twenty-two years, last year having been occupied by the State fair. This Society has maintained a reputation unrivalled for its exhibition of fine stock and the hospitality of its members throughout its entire history.

BRITISH ENLISTMENTS IN FRANCE.—The British Government is offering great inducements to French half-pay and pensioned officers to enlist for the Indian army. They are to serve not less than two nor more than five years, and are to be sent out and back at government expense. The pay of captains is to be 20,000 francs; of first lieutenants 15,000 francs, of sub-lieutenants 12,000 francs.

AN ODD INCIDENT .- A farmer in Oxford, Ohio, who was at work in his field, a few days ago, took off his vest and hung it over a fence. In one pecket was a roll of bills amounting to $205, and in the other $50. A three months' old calf walked up to the fence and ate off one corner of the vest pocket, money and all-$205.

THE PROSPECTS OF THE FISHERIES .- The Yarmouth (Mass.) Register learns that there is a good prospect of a prosperous season for the tishermen. All accounts from the Bay Chaleur represent the catch as abundant, and most of the Bankers appear to bring in good fares. A prosperous year would prove a great blessing to the Cape.

THE PUBLIC LANDS .- The product of the sales of public lands for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1857, is stated to have amounted to $3,829,485.

Under the head of "Army and Navy Intelligence," in the Liverpool Times of August 22, is the following paragraph:

Sergeant Wallace, of the Eighty-fourth Regi-ment, after seventeen years faithful service, has, by the sentence of a court-martial, been reduced to the ranks for drinking a glass of wine with a private in a hotel at Chatham

THE SUPLY OF SUGAR IN FRANCE.-Mr. Walsh, letter of August 6th to the New York Journal of Commerce, says:

Sugar is falling; the beet root factories will supply this year two hundred and forty million pounds. The Isle of Reunion (Bourbon) will produce one hundred and twenty millions; the French West Indies will probably send a hundred million; altogether the supply will exceed the demand in France.

INDIAN TROUBLES .- The St. Paul Times has the following doleful account of the condition of the

The Upper Sioux Indians are reported to be in a very wretebed condition—their crops having been destroyed by the grasshoppers, and they being entirely destitute of powder or money. Their game is brought down by the bow and arrow.

The Pioneer has information that hostilities between the tribes have already commenced:

On the 27th or 29th ult., as two young men of the On the 2rth of 28th urth, as two young men of the Sisseton Sioux were duck hunting at Lake Traverse, they were surprised by a war party of one hundred Chippewas, fired upon, and one was killed and the other slightly wounded. The wounded man immediate the state of t other slightly wounded. The wounded man immediately divested himself of his blanket, gun, &c., and ran his quickest step to the village, some four miles distant. A party of Sioux started in pursuit, and when they reached the bloody ground they found only the blanket, and of the person of the murdered man only the upper part of the face, nose, mouth, and chin. His friends surmise that they cut up the body and took it home, either to feed their hungry dogs or to excite the cruelty of their women and children. This is the first real fight between the Sioux and Chippewas this season is will constitute the season. children. This is the first real fight between the Sioux and Chippewas this season—it will certainly excite retaliation.

RAT-PITS IN NEW YORK .- The New York San,

There are only two public rat-pits in the city, though there are a number of private ones. At the principal of the public pits, which is kept by Harry principal of the public pits, which is kept by Harry Jennings, there are on an average five hundred rats killed every week, or altogether twenty-six thousand a year. Those who keep pits pay sixpence each for all rats that are brought to them. The rats are caught by professional rat-catchers, or by stable boys, butcher boys, and others. There are only four professional rat-catchers in the city; one of these catches on an average forty rats every night.

Chemical Researches in Agriculture.—Dr. Jackson, the distinguished chemist of Boston, is at Washing ton making arrangements to carry out the plans of the Agricultural Bureau, attached to the United States Patent Office, in regard to the chemical analyas of the best soils and most important productions.
These embrace the cotton plant and cotton soils, the Chinese and African sugar cines, the Chinese yam, common potato, chapas, and Indian corn. The result of Dr. Jackson's investigations will be of great interest and importance to the whole country. THE BALTIC'S NEWS.

At the half-yearly meeting of the Liverpool Chamher of Commerce, a report was submitted by the Council, and adopted in which it is represented that efforts to induce the government to encourage the introduction of Chinese and other free labor into the introduction of Chinese and other free labor into the British colonies had been productive of no favorable impression; that the Chamber approves of the efforts of the Cotton Supply Association to increase the growth of cotton in India and elsewhere; favors the Suez canal project; and hopes that a bill establishing a uniformity of weights and measures may claim early attention in the next session of Parliament.

It dita.—The copious and lucid correspondence from India which we have now published will, at length, enable our readers to form an appreciation of those transactions which have been reported in such disjointed and fragmentary shapes during the last few days. That the intelligence is cheering is more than we can say, for it details deeds of infamy which will set the blood of every Englishman boiling in his veins; but the ascendency of our aims before Delhi has been decisively maintained, and one of Delhi has been decisively maintained, and one of the two episodes which communicated so painful an interest to the contents of this mail acquires a much less afflicting complexion, now that the truth is known. What, too, is above all things satisfactory—we can still announce the unshaken loyalty of the Madras and Bombay armies.

Madras and Bombay armies.

It is in the Bengal Presidency alone that mutiny and murder are still rampant, and even in this territory we can except the province of Lower Bengal as one extremity and that of the Punjaub at the other. In the latter district the revolt of a couple of regiments had been summarily punished by the brilliant operations of Brigadier Nicholson, who, with a flying only up to infentive had completed as a flying column of the column of a flying column of infantry, had caught, beaten, and scattered the mutineers. The scene of Asiatic villainy and British endurance is still confined to the North Western Provinces, where the four great cities of Delhi, Agra, Lucknow, and Cawnpore supply so many centres of interest to thousands of British hearts. That the regular assault upon Del-hi should have been still deferred will create no asan should have been still deferred will create no as-tonishment, and, indeed, no regret, when it is con-sidered that the comparatively small army which would be thus plunged into the labyrinths of a populous city constitutes the chief force on which, until the arrival of success, the until the arrival of succors, the ascendancy of the British Government must depend. It is encoura-British Government must depend. It is encouraging, however, to learn that in every single instance the sorties of the swarming desperadoes from the city have been repulsed; that the British camp is healthy and well supplied; that our Ghoorka and Punjab auxiliaries couduct themselves with admirable idelity and valor, and that the hour cannot be long retaided in which deeds of unspeakable horror shall be matched by a retribution as fearful and as stern. fearful and as stern.

[From the London Times of September 1.] The India Reinf orcements.—It was on Saturday, the 27th of June, that the curt and scarcely credible communications of the telegraph first announced to the country that the mutiny of the Bengal army had assumed the characteristics now but too well known. On Wednesday, the 1st of July, the stream of reinforcements from these shores to Calcutta set steadily out, and from that hour to the present it has flowed on continuously and with so sustained and even accelerated a current that we scarcely know where to look for any similar example. On a single day in July—the 21st—six vessels left these coasts, conveying 1,700 troops; and the whole runmber of ships dispatched during that month was 29—all but two for every successive day. The month which terminated vesterday witnessed redoubled efforts as the energies of the country rose promptly. efforts, as the energies of the country rose promptly to the level of the exigencies which each mail announced. In the aggregate, we dispatched to the East in July about 9,000 troops; in August we sent upwards of 15,000, and in ships of greater size and swiftness than before. In the 29 vessels departing during July there was only a single steamer; in the during July there was only a single steamer; in the 28 which followed in August there were no fewer than 17. Those readers—and there will doubtless than 11. Those readers—and there was additionable many—whose interests will carry them through the details of these statistics, will find the information very intelligibly tabulated in another column of our impression this morning.

Some 25,000 soldiers, it will be seen, have left England for India since the 1st of July last, irrespec-tively of all those reinforcements which have been assembled at Calcutta from other parts of our Eastern dominions, or drawn from our other colonies or expeditions. If it is remembered that these efforts have been made with a peace establishment, and immediately after a considerable reduction of our military resources, the result, we think, will assume military resources, the result, we think, will assume an aspect by no means unsatisfactory, and wil show how very effective a counterpoise will shortly be provided for those mutinous battalions whose successive treasons we yesterday catalogued. When the first keel of this fleet enters the waters of the Hooghly our anxieties for the safety of our countrymen will be approaching their close, for the torrent of steel will then be setting in with an unbroken and irresistible flood. If, indeed, between 60 and 70 days may possibly suffice, under favorable conditions, to carry a good ship from Portsmouth to Calcutta, the desired hour must even now be at hand; for since the Buccephalus and Barham led the van of the squadron, two clear months have elapsed this of the squadron, two clear months have elapsed this very morning. Nor need too much thought be given to the distance which will still interveue between the new comers and their comrades.

It is a long way, no doubt, from Calcutta to Del-hi, but the news will do almost as much for us as the arrival itelf. In Asiatic countries intelligence the arrival item. In Asiant countries intelligence travels from village to village with a celerity utterly mysterious. The knowledge of the army on its way to vengeance will reach as if by lightning every Sepoy in Hindostan, and the sanguinary miscreauts will feel, to their despair, that behind the first advance, be it ever so small, marches the force of outraged Britain.

But there is no room yet for contentment or re-pose. Not only may the undiscernible exigencies of the future require even more than the array or the future require even more than the array provided, but these very numbers exact commensurate reinforcements. The demands of any army in this respect are proportioned to its strength, and for every battalion we despatch it is indispensable that we should establish corresponding reserves. We do not, indeed, look for extraordinary casual-We do not anticipate on our own territory of India any such losses as those in the Crimea.

India any such losses as those in the Crimea.

Spain and Mexico—Paris, Aug. 30.—The Dnke de Rivas had a long interview on Friday with Count Walewski, and is said to have declared that, before proceeding to hostilities with Mexico, the Spanish Government would publish a manifesto, explaining the question at issue, and permitting the Mexican Government to open fresh negotiations. Although accounts are conflicting with respect to the exact course the Spanish Alexican dispute is taking, and as to the manner in which it is likely to be arranged, it is pretty evident that all danger of collision between the two powers is over for the present. As regards the final settlement, that, considering the national character of the disputants, may possibly be long. But fears for Cuba will restrain Spain from carrying out those warlike threats of which her press and some of her legislators were lately so her press and some of her legislators were lately so lavish.

Chira:—Hong-Kong, July 8.—Lord Elgin has arrived in perfect health.

The course resolved upon is this: Lord Elgin will dispatch to the authorities, for transmission to the Emperor, a letter requiring the Emperor within a specified time either to recognize or to repudiate the acts of his officers at Conton. If the court of Pelan repudiate Yeh and pay compensation for past injuries and give security against their recurrence—well. If, as is most probable, either no notice be taken of the letter, or a disposition be shown to entangle the ambassador in questions of ceremonial, lord Elgin will declare war and thus relieve the relations of the two powers from their present anomalous pression. alous position.

An American, named Eli Boggs, was tried at Hong Kong on Wednesday last for piracy and nur-der. His name would do for a villain of the Blackder. Ilis name would do for a villain of the Blackbeard class, but in form and feature he was the hero of a sentimental novel; as he stood in the dock, bravely battling for his life, it seemed impossible that the handsome boy could be the pirate whose name had been for three years connected with the boldest and bloodiest acts of piracy. It was a face of feminine beauty. Not a down upon the upper lip, large, lustrous eyes, a mouth, the smile of which might woo coy maiden, affluent black hair not carelessly parted, hands so small and delicately white that they would create a sensation in Belgravia—

lessly parted, hands so small and delicately white that they would create a sensation in Belgravia—such was the Hong Kong pirate, Eli Boggs.

The defence was, of course, false. It had been proved that he had boarded a junk, and destroyed by cannon, pistol, and sword, fif een men; and that, having forced all the rest overboard, he hud fired at one of the victims, who had clutched a rope and held on astern. No witness, however, could say that he saw a man die from a blow or a shot struck or fired by the pirate. The jury, moved by his youth and courage, and straining hard their consciences, acquitted him of the murder, but found him guilty of piracy. He was sentenced to be transported for life.

IMPORTANT FAILURES .- We announced on Friday the failure of the well-known house of l'hilip Allen & Sons, of Providence, R. I., and also of Zachariah Allen, of the same place. We understand that the Elm Street Company also suspended rayment on the same day. Messrs. Philip Allen & Sons are known throughout the country as among the largest and most respectable manufacturers of calico prints in the United States. The senior partner of the firm the United States. The senior partner of the firm was formerly Governor of Rhode Islaud, and is now in the United States Senate, and has been in active and successful business for more than half a century. Their liabilities are immense, amounting to about $1,200,000. The liabilities of Zachariah Al len are reported as about $500,000. Of the liabilities of the Elm Street Company we are not informed. The suspension of the Rhode Island manufacturers was on account of large failures in New York.

We regret to hear, also, of the suspension, on Saturday, of two well-known and respectable Bostos houser—Eaton, Hill, & Candler, and William F. Freeman, both importers of and large dealers. Freeman, both importers of, and large dealers in, dye stuffs and chemicals. The liabilities of either of these houses probably will not exceed $200,000. Mr. F. has a large establishment at Watertown, for the manufacture of dyewoods, and has been in successful business for a number of years. Messrs. Eaton, Hill, & Candler are hard-working and enter prising young men, and have done a successful and very extensive business. Their failure in such disastrons times should be no discouragement, and its effect cannot be permanent. They have the hearty sympathy of many friends.—Boston Traveller.

[From the St. Joseph Gazette, Sept. 10.] RUNAWAY NEGROES IN NEBRASKA—Fight at Brownsville—One Man Kuled and one Negro Wounded. We learn from Dr. A. J. Holliday, of Brownsville, Nebraska Territory, that a gentleman from Missouri by the name of Myers discovered near that place, on Saturday last, three negroes skulking through the bush. Satisfied from their actions that they were runaways, he went to Brownsville, re-ported what he had seen, and a company was soon in pursuit of them. The negroes, who were conceal-ed in a hazel thicket, discovered the party approach-ing and prepared to offer determined resistance. Mr. Myers, who was in the advance of the party pointing out the spot where he had seen them, was shot twice by the negroes, and afterward beaten over the head in a brital manner. He lived but twenty minutes after he was shot. The negroes after the first fire fled, but were pursued and fired upon by the other party. Mr. Davis, of Brownsville, came up with one of them, a large mulatto-colored fellow, who appeared to be the leader of the runaways, and the one who first that Myers, when a land, to land one who first that Myers, when a lend, to land one one who first shot Myers, when a hand-to-hand encounter took place. Several shots were fired by each, and the negro, receiving a severe wound in the arm, turned and attempted to escape by jumping in the river; his wounded arm being useless, he came near drowning, and Mr. Davis, discovering him in a help-less condition, pulled him out and secured him. The other two negroes escaped, but were being pursued by three gentlemen of Brownsville.

A Strange Case of Polsoning.—The Warsaw (R. I.) Telegraph publishes the following: "A family residing in South Gardener, Mass., were recently poisoned by eating meat after it had been stung by a wasp. The particulars are as follows: The lady, having health is the having boiled a piece of corned beef, placed it in the window to cool. It had been there but a few mo-ments, when she observed that a wasp had lit upon the meat and was making every exertion to escape, but in vain, the meat being so hot as to burn its fect and legs, so that it soon died. She thought nothing and legs, so that it soon died. She thought nothing more of the event, however, until two or three days afterwards, when her family (consisting of herself, husand, and three daughters), after breakfasting off the meat, were taken with violent vomiting, the sickness lasting one hour and a half, with the exception of one of the young ladies, who partook of the meat sparingly, causing a slight nausea. The sickness was so very peculiar, it reminded her of the wasp, and she thinks when the meat burnt him, he wasp, and she thinks when the meat burnt him, he must have stung it by way of revenge, and thus imparted sufficient poison to occasion the sickness."

LAST FOND LOOKS.—When a lady (we are talking of a lady in the full heighth and breadth of fashion) has got her bonnet and gloves on, and is perfectly ready with her parasol in hand, she always goes back to the looking-glass to take a last fond look. Upon our asking "a dear handsome duchess" if this was not the truth, and the beautiful truth, she had the charming candor to state: "Yes, my dear Punch, it is the truth, but not all the truth. No woman, take my word for it, is satisfied with one look. At least, I know that I am not, for (and one look. At least, I know that I am not, for (and here our duchess laughed, as though she was pleased with herself and all the world) I don't mind telling you, I invariably take four—four good ones. The first look in the glass is for myself, that's fair; the second is for my husband, that's nothing but just; the third is for my friends, that's only generous; and the last is for my rivals, that's human nature. If the last look satisfies me, then I know it is all right, and I assure you I nevertake any more!"—Punch. any more!"-Punch.

any more!"—Punch.

An Inmate of a French Mad House.— Charenton is the model mad asylum in France, and worthy of a visit from all tourists. The last comer at Charenton is M'me de C—, who was two winters ago the belle of Paris. She was equally celebrated for her ease, sprightliness, and beauty. One night, feeling slightly unwell, she took by mistake one vial for another in her medicine chest, and swallowed a poison. It was believed for a long time that she must surely die; the prompt and skillful action of the family physician vanquished the poison, but at the expense of the face, which was terribly ravaged. When the victim was in some measure restored to life, her first care was to ask for a looking-glass. Her request was imprudently granted. She saw the dreadful truth at a glance; her beauty was destroyed, her eyes were blood-shot, her cheeks swollen, her mouth twisted, and crow's feet and wrinkles furrowed her brow and eyes. She gazed with haggard eyes on the wreck for some time in silence; she gave a heart-rending shriek; she was a lunatic for life. a heart-rending shriek; she was a lunatic for life.

LATEST NEWS.

THERMOMETER, 6 P. M. 7 A. M. 75 12 P.M. 12 M LIST OF UNPAID LETTERS REMAINING IN THE LOUISVILLE POST-OFFICE, SEPT. 15, 1857.

POLICE PROCEEDINGS .- Thursday, September 17. John Gould was arrested charged with having shot at Joseph Pickering and Rebecca Frown, who were returning from the Mechanics' fair on Tuesday night. Nothing was proven against him and he was discharged. Robert Grader, who e bold robbery of Mrs. Laura Lavielle, ou Chestnut street, we have already particularised, was committed to jail in default of $600 bail to answer at the circuit court. He is a German, and but recently arrived in the United

Joseph DeMarsh was discharged from custody, having given bail.

To silence a report which has gone abroad, we would state that the J. T. Burton recently before the city court was not the well-known anctioneer and alderman. The two Burtons are no kin.

The notorious Col. Titus became involved in difficulty at St. Louis on Tuesday evening. He knocked a drunken man down in the bar-room of the Planters' Ilouse. The porter of the house then pitched into Titus, who fired a pistol without effect. He was arrested and held to bail to answer a charge of shooting with intent to kill.

FROM KANSAS AND UTAIL—We have accounts from Kansas of late date. The State Convention was in session at Lecompton. John Calhoun was elected President; on the first ballot, the vote being, for Calhoun 27; Judge Elmore 12; L. J. Easton 6; Mr. Hughes, late chief clerk of the Kansas Legislature, was elected Secretary; Mr. Crewer, Sergeantatarms; and the correspondent of the New York Time, s whose name is not given, was elected reporter of proceedings.

From Leavenworth we have dates to the 10th, where, it is said, news is as scarce as money in St. Louis—an extreme case. Politics were quiet there, murders none, though one has been reported, and there was a chance of hanging one or two men for it.

Leavenworth is said to be a growing city, and bids fair to be of considerable importance. Rents are stated to be higher than on Fourth street, St. Louis.

Our correspondent writes: "The officers constituting the Utah Territorial Government have not yet started, though at one time they were on the point of doing so, and were only stopped by an order from the War Department. Five hundred of-incers and soldiers yesterday sat out for New Mexico. Col. Johnson of Texas is to take command of the Utah expedition instead of Gen. Harney. Many reports come in here in relation to the threats of the Mormons, but they are all no doubt much of the Mormons, but they are all, no doubt, much exaggerated. The hardest thing that has been said is contained in the Salt Lake News of a late date: is contained in the Salt Lake News of a late date:
"And as to the officers appointed by government for Territories, though such appointments are but arbitrary and unconstitutional relies of colonial usage, still should any come to Utah and demean themselves like true gentlemen and confine their official acts to their legitimate channels, they will find their offices to partake more of the nature of mere sincures than in any place they have ever seen, heard, or read of. And in addition to the most urbane treatment in our midst, if they need assistance to help them in, and will only guarantee that they will carry out the above specified line of proper conduct, all the necessary assistance will be promptly extended to them. But poor, miserable curses are not wanted here, and all such characters will find the mountain retreats of the Saints too hot for their mountain retreats of the Saints too hot for their comfort, for we have already endured their insults, abuse, and corruptions as long as human nature

Even these declarations will hardly intimidate Even these declarations will list in the action officers from making a journey to the "home of the Saints." As soon as the Colonel commanding arrives, the expedition will move forward, but even then forced marches will have to be made in order to reach Salt Lake Valley before the win-

Governor Walker is now at Fort Leavenworth. The St. Joseph Journal of the 10th gives an account of a fight between Col. Sumner's command and a band of Indians, about the middle of August, on the Arkansas river. The Indians fought as well as any disciplined troops could have done. They received the fire of the Americans, and returned it with effect, killing and wounding four of them. The loss of the Iudiaus was twenty killed and wounded. The soldiers were greatly dissatisfied with their treatment, the want of provisions, &c. Col. Sumner had sent to Fort Kearney for a supply, and it was on the route for the place where they were stationed.—St. Louis Repb., Wednesday. on the Arkansas river. The Indians fought as well

BY TELEGRAPH.

Reported for the Evening Bulletin.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17. The steamer Central America has not been heard from, and the public anxiety in regard to her safety continues to increase. She has on board 700 persons, comprising her passengers and crew, and a million and a half of gold. The steamer Daniel Webster, which sails to-day for New Orleans, has orders to cruise around in search for her, and the Empir

City, from Norfolk for New York, has received similar orders by telegraph. Sr. Louis, Sept. 17. Sr. Louis, Sept. 17.

Yesterday afternoon a fire occurred on Eleventh street, near Market, which, before the flames were subdued, swept the buildings of the entire block, including the carpenter shop of Hugh Raub, soda manufactory of Cairn, Block, & Co., the wagon and blacksmith shops of Jas. Verden, several other buildings and tenements, extensive lumber vards of Wm. Morris, and Wright & Co., containing between two and three million feet of lumber, was also destroyed. Morrison's loss is sixty thousand; insured for five thousand. Wright & Co.'s forty thousand; insured for thirteen thousand. Total loss estimated at a hundred and fifty thousand. Insurance not ascertained. It will doubtless prove small.

BALTIMORE. Sept. 17.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17. The boiler of the Telegraph flour mills, on Falls Avenue and Fawn street, exploded this morning at half past seven o'clock. The boiler house and three small dwellings adjoining were demolished, killing four children and seriously scalding the engineer and others. The affair caused the greatest consternation. SAVANNAH, Sept. 16.

The steamship Alabama, from New York, has arrived. She picked up off Cape Hatteras the schooner lda, of Philadelphia, from Wilmington, N. C., bound to New York.

New York, Sept. 17. A dispatch from Lecompton says the constitutional convention has adjourned to the third Monday of October, and that the free State delegates were refused seats.

SWINDLER ABROAD — Last Friday a stranger called on Hall, Eells, & Co., bankers in this city, and said he wished them to make a collection for him in said he wished them to make a collection for him in New York city, as he was going into the country to buy some wheat, and should want to check on them for the money. He accordingly took out a blank check, printed in colors, with the name of John R. Clinton across the end and addressed to the Bank of America, New York city, and Mr. Eells having filled it for the amount of $1,400, he (the stranger) signed his name, John R. Clinton, and Mr. Eells forwarded the check to New York. During the same day Mr. Clinton called at the banking office several times with money which he wished to have examined, and remarked that he found be could buy wheat in this city as well as anywhere, and should probably purchase of Standart, Bemis, & Murray. Yesin this city as well as anywhere, and should probably purchase of Standart, Bemis, & Murray. Yesterday morning the speculator culled on Mr. Eells and wanted to know whether, if he were introduced by Messrs. Alcott & Horton or Standard, Bemis, & Murray, he (Mr. Eells) could advance him $700 or so on the check, stating as a reason that he had contracted to deliver his wheat in New York on Saturday. Mr. Eells told him that they were not in the habit of doing business in that way, and that the better way would be to telegraph to the Bank of America and ascertain if the check was paid. This did not suit the purposes of the gentleman—he did not want to be at the expense of telegraphing: and

America and ascertain if the check was paid. This did not suit the purposes of the gentleman—he did not want to be at the expense of telegraphing; and again asked if an introduction from one of the business firms mentioned would not answer.

Mr. Fells told him that if he brought a guarantee from them it would do. Mr. Clinton then went to Alcott & Horton's and returned with a bill for 500 grain sacks, unrecapted. He was told that would not answer, as it simply showed that he had purchased the sacks, but had not paid for them. Mr. Eells, beginning to "smell a mice," at once made inquiries, and found that on Friday the same individual had left a similar check with Whitman, Standart, & Co., brokers, and the latter gentleman had telegraphed to the Bank of America and ascertained that no such person as John R. Clinton had any account with them. The authorities were then put on the fellow's track, but he had disappeared and has not since been heard of. It is also ascertained that he called at the U. S. express office, on Friday, with a package which he said contained $4,000 of Tiverton Bauk notes, which he said had been seut to him to buy wheat, but could not be used here. The package was directed to Stark, Harris, & Co., New York city, and was received by the agent, receipted, and sect on. Sunday morning the neckage was returned from Buffalo where it the agent, receipted, and sent on. Sanday morning the package was returned from Buffalo, where it the package was returned from Buffalo, where it had been opened and found to contain old newspapers. The enterprising gentleman did not succeed in making much out of our Cleveland business men, although he certainly tried hard. He is tall and slim, light complexion, genteel in appearance, was well dressed, wore a drab soft hat, low crown; did not wear whiskers. It would be well for the business men of our neighboring cities to be on the look out for him.—Cleveland Leader.

STICIDE AT NIAGARA FALLS.—The following dis-oatch is published in the New York papers of Sat-

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 11, 1857. A man who registered his name as W. T. Allen, from New England, threw himself from Table Rock this afternoon.

The facts in the case, as the Courier leerns them. from a gentleman who came from the Falls on Sat-urday, are as follows: The man came from Montreal, and while crossing the Suspension Bridge inquired of the driver if any one had ever been known to go over the falls and live. The Jehu replied that no such case had come within his knowledge, and that the probabilities were very strongly opposed to the occurrence of such an event. The passenger assured the driver that he should accomplish the feat.

sured the driver that he should accompush the feat.

Arriving at the Clifton House, the man registered his name, called for a room and a bottle of champagne, and, after inhibing the wine, addressed a letter—a mere scrawl—to his sister, and another to a firm in Montreal. He then went to Table Rock, walked into the water near the edge of the precipice, threw his hat over, and immediately made a similar disposition of himself. Of course, the body of the infatuated man has not been recovered.

The Montreal firm to which the letter was addressed was immediately telegraphed, and the reply was Illness of Col. Benton.—We learnt yesterday with painful surprise that the Hon. Thos. H. Benton was lying in a state of dangerous if not hopeless illness at his residence in this city. On inquiry last evening of his physicians we understood that he was suffering under an intestinal disease of several years' standing, which, within a week past, assumed so very serious a condition as to threaten his life. Surgical skill afforded yesterday at least temporary relief, and last evening he was somewhat better, but by no means out of danger. He is attended by those eminently skillful practitioners, Messrs. Hall and May.—Nat. Intel.

Terribly Tragedy.—W. H. Greenman, a lawyer of this State, committed suicide on Saturday at Canton, Pa., by cutting his throat, while laboring under a fit of delirium tremens. Mr. Spaulding, the proprietor of the Canton Hotel, fell in a fit on seeing Mr. Greenman's corpse, and died immediately. The greatest excitement prevailed, as the parties were widely known and respected.

EVENING BULLETIN.

CURRENCY .- Our private bankers have found themselves compelled to increase the rates of discount on Tennessee money, not from a want of confidence in the banks of that State (for they are as solvent and probably more so than they have ever been), but because they have no Eastern Exchange to redeem their money with, and coin has to be taken in place of their issue, which entails a heavy expense. The three old banks and a few of the free banks are now taken at 2 per cent. discount, while most of the free banks rauge from 21/2 to 5 discount -principally 216.

The Ohio and Indiana State banks are taken at 1/4 to 1/2 discount, and one of the bankers takes them at par from his customers.

The minimum rate for Indiana and Illinois free bank paper is 2 per cent. discount, but the Illinois is more generally 5 per cent. discount.

There were unfavorable reports circulated yesterday in regard to one of the free banks in Indianapolis, but they are not yet sufficiently authenticated. The bank rate for Eastern Exchange continues at 1 and the broker's rate at 11/2 premium.

The following we take from the Cincinnati Price-Current of yesterday:

We believe the Directors of the Trust Company have given up all hope of being able to resume bu-siness, and the question now with them is, how much can be saved from the wreck?

The Citizens' Bank is supposed will pay all it owes eventually, but it cannot resume business any

The affairs of the Central Bank have not undergone any change for the better. It is still closed, and will probably remain so for some time.

Official advices have been received from Commander Foote, of the sloop-of-war Portsmouth, dated off Menam river, Siam, June 16.

On arriving he proceeded in the king's steamer Banhok, with Consul Bradley, the bearer of the treaty concluded between the United States and Siam. During their stay they were presented to the two kings of the country, and were received with marked consideration by all the members of the court. The second king visited the Plymouth—it was the first instance of a king of Siam going on board a foreign vessel.

The king sent a present of lamp oil, rice, sugar,
